nova-Institute's Winter Special – 30% discount on all market reports

From global overview to special subjects: Get the latest and outstanding market reports for a special price.

The portfolio of nova-Institute's market reports covers all relevant topics in the bio- and CO<sub>2</sub>-based economy: technology, policy and the latest market data. The studies range from biomass to CO<sub>2</sub> as feedstock for polymers, provide a comprehensive overview of bio-based building blocks and polymers, but also give detailed insights into specific building blocks such as levulinic acid and succinic acid, as well as comprehensive analyses of biodegradability, guidelines, standards and labels for bio-based products. The market and trend reports were compiled from nova experts together with leading international experts and are among the most reliable and recognized sources on the market.

For a short time only, nova-Institute offers the opportunity to get this detailed, highly qualified market and trend report for a special price.

With the allowance code novaWinSpec19 you get a 30% discount on all fourteen market reports available.

The offer includes the annually updated report on “Bio-based Building Blocks and Polymers – Global Capacities, Production and Trends 2018 – 2023”, as well as the recently added in-depth reports on “Levulinic acid – A versatile platform chemical for a variety of market applications – Global market dynamics, demand/supply, trends and market potential” and “Succinic acid: From a promising building block to a slow seller – what will a realistic future market look like?” and many more.

All reports are available on www.bio-based.eu/reports

The Winter Special is available until the 10 January 2020.
